

Chapter 13, Problem 1: Modals and Imperatives

The Imperative Rule stipulates that the sentence consists of a VP that is [FORM base]. The head of this VP must therefore be a [FORM base] verb (since FORM is a HEAD feature). But modals have defective paradigms: they are always [FORM fin]. So a modal cannot occur as the topmost verb in an imperative.